

NYYM on Social Media

If you have an account on these services, you can: comment, “like”, create, or share content; start a conversation; reach out; speak your truth; be in community. But you DO NOT have to have an account with any of these services to view our content. If choosing to view just one of these, choose Facebook.

Facebook: Facebook.com/newyorkyearlymeeting

YM staff members frequently post events and resources on Facebook. Visit “Liked by this page” in the right-hand column for links to many other Quaker-related pages.

Other Facebook pages maintained by NYYM staff:

Facebook.com/nyymfamilies – news from NYYM Children and Youth Field Secretary

Facebook.com/yafnyym – news from NYYM Young Adult Field Secretary

Facebook.com/nyymarch – news from ARCH: Aging Resources, Consultation, and Help

Twitter: Twitter.com/nyymtweets

I periodically send out short messages called “tweets” on Twitter. These are usually retweets, links, news updates, and Instagram posts. Twitter’s strength is its ability to connect Twitter users in conversation and to spread news quickly.

The Children and Youth Field Secretary also has a Twitter account: twitter.com/ChildrenYouthFS

Instagram: Instagram.com/newyorkyearlymeeting

Instagram is a phone-based app for posting images and is particularly popular with teenagers and young adults. I share all my Instagram posts on Twitter so you don’t need to visit Instagram separately. If you’re on Instagram and you’d like to share a post with the YM, please tag it with @newyorkyearlymeeting.

Questions? Email me (Sarah Way, Communications Director) at communications@nyym.org.